This line will be handled exclusively by us in Christian and Trigg counties. It includes a great number and variety of subjects in full color, as well as some hand colored pictures of exceptional beauty.

The samples for 1913 will be in our hands shortly, and we shall be glad to show them to you at an early date. MAKE NO PLANS FOR YOUR 1913 CALENDAR UNTIL YOU SEE THIS EXTRAORDINARY LINE.

NEWS TRAVELS IN HOSPITALS

Wireless Outdone in Rapidity with Which Patients Get Forbidden Information.

"A very efficient system of wireless telegraphy exists in every hospital," said the nurse. "Apparently all patients have the knack of transmitting messages, otherwise the news of serious cases would not travel so quickly and accurately from ward to ward. It is contrary to the rules for hospital attendants to retail gossip, and most of them do observe strict secreey, yet notwithstanding that precaution there is never an interesting case in the building whose history is not known and discussed in the remotest corner.

"Last week a boy suffering from a peculiar kind of throat trouble was brought into a first floor ward. The doctors were very much interested in the case, yet they took special pains never to mention it in the hearing of another patient. But for all the good their caution did they might as well have lectured on the case in every ward; for when the boy died men and women all about the hospital said to the nurses:

"'So that poor boy died, did he? I guess there wasn't much hope for him

"Now, how did the news travel?"

NOT YET APPRISED OF LOSS

But Mourners Would Be Plentiful When They Came to Realize Their Bereavement.

Cohn and Goldberg went into the diamond business. They got about $100,000 worth of diamonds on credit. "Now, how vill ve make it a success?" asked Goldberg.

"I got it," answered Cohn. "We will put the diamonds in a coffin and ship it to Canada and you and I will go as chief mourners along to Canada."

So they got two black suits, black bordered handkerchiefs and all the trappings for mourning. They accompanied the coffin to Montreal. As the baggage man took the coffin out of the baggage car they stood beside it cry-

"Are you the only mourners?" asked the baggage man.

"Yes, right now," responded Cohn. But in 30 days there wall be more mourners and in 60 days still more mourners."-New York World.

Coffinless Funeral. The Bacchanalian funeral in Italy, which took half a day to reach the burial place, is very like what Dean Ramsay tells of bygone Scotland. There was the old maiden lady of Strathspey who bade her grandnephew see that as much whisky was used at her funeral as had been used at her baptism. The churchyard was ten miles from her home; it was a short November day; and night was closing in when the funeral procession arrived. "But whaur's Miss Ketty?" asked the grave digger, and being answered, "In her coffin, to be sure," he it on a dyke, and forgotten it when they resumed their way; and the interment had to be postponed until the Maid's One Good Quality.

Servant girls know their own good points and they take care that everybody else shall know them. One maid who was obliged to look for a new situation because her employers were leaving town listened critically to the enumeration of her virtues as set down in the recommendation that had just been written by her former mis-

"There's one thing you've left out. ma'am,' she said. "I never cut my fingers. I wish you'd put that right up at the head of the list. Ladies will like that. Some girls cut their fingers terrible and it looks bad."

"Why, that is true; you never do," said her mistress, and the unusual point of efficiency, "She never cuts her fingers," was inserted as request-

Beware of Cousins.

Cousins are not as simple as they seem. The very fact of being a cousin, is complicated. The laisserfaire of consinship is both eluding and deluding-cousins will be cousins, even if you did not choose them. They can borrow money from you, visit you without being asked, tell people they belong to your family, contest your will, even fall in love with you-and a cousin once removed is twice as apt to. Never completely trust a cousin-never depend on his not doing any of these things. Never take him for granted. The "cousinly kiss" may or may not mean what it means. And cousins always do kiss -it's part of being cousins.-Atlantic.

Competition.

She (to young poet)-How much do you get for your poems, Charley? Charley (with pride)-From $2 to

She-Well, isn't that very little, Charley? I see that Sir Walter Scott got $10,000 for one of his.

Charley-Yes, but you see, writing poetry isn't the business it used to be. There's too much competition.

Language Lapses. "My wife has joined a club to study exact English." "Humph! I wish mine would, Then she wouldn't accuse me of loose confuct because I get tight."
